

As an engineer, Democrat Bob Abboud has spent his entire career developing renewable energy, modernizing our military, creating good jobs and improving our environment. He wants to bring this expertise to Washington and start getting results: End the war in Iraq; revitalize our economy in northern Illinois; and implement a revolutionary new energy plan.

“Abboud is a nuclear engineer, and what he proposes is nothing short of revolutionary”

A lot is at stake in November. Families are being crushed by the worst economic crisis in a generation. Rockford has the highest unemployment rate in the state at nearly 8%, rising more than any other U.S. metro area in the past year. Additionally, gas prices are out of control; we have no plan to end the war; inflation is up and home values are down. If we don't make a change now, things will get worse. This year, voters get to choose between the old, failed policies of a do-nothing Congress and the new ideas of an independent, energetic problem solver.

The old way of doing things in Washington has failed. Democrat Bob Abboud wants a new direction:

- ★ Abboud is the only candidate for Congress who supports a responsible plan to end the Iraq War and get our economy back on track.
- ★ Abboud will help stop excessive spending on foreign products, rebuild America's manufacturing base and put people back to work while cutting taxes for working families.
- ★ Abboud will invest in renewable energy, science and technology to move America into the future, lower gas prices and solve the energy crisis.
